

January 30 -- HealthBridge Partners With National Customer Satisfaction Research Organization

HealthBridge has contracted with My InnerView (Wausau, Wisconsin), a nationally recognized leader in conducting patient satisfaction surveys for nursing homes and assisted living communities. Currently working with over 8,000 senior care organizations throughout the country, My InnerView has the largest database of nursing home customer and employee satisfaction data in existence.

HealthBridge will administer a survey to each patient and their family upon discharge. "We are excited about this continuing investment we will be making to ensure better understanding of our customers' experiences. HealthBridge will use their opinions and perspectives to improve quality and service in our Centers," states Tim Hodges, Chief Marketing Officer for HealthBridge.

My InnerView will enable HealthBridge to gauge customer satisfaction scientifically and also allow meaningful comparisons to other providers locally and nationally. "We commend HealthBridge for proactively listening to the voice of their customers," states Brad Shiverick, Chief Quality Officer at My InnerView. "It demonstrates HealthBridge's commitment to excellence in quality care and service."

"Our patients, their families and the healthcare professionals we serve expect that their loved ones will receive high quality care and services in our Centers. My InnerView surveys will give us customer feedback that will enable us to build on our already customer-focused culture. The results of these surveys and how we use the information will better define for our customers how we differ from our competitors in the delivery of health care services in our communities," added Hodges.

HealthBridge is a national Health Care Management company comprised of leading clinical and operations professionals with extensive experience in Post Acute Rehabilitation and Long Term Living services.
